Electronic Submission of Applications for Benefits

Ivan Handler

Illinois Department of Healthcare and Family Services

Different POVs

- The State sees:
 - Multiple services, interfaces, repositories, conflicting field definitions
 - Lack of uniformity, poor application tracking
- Partners see:
 - Redundant data entry for applications, services
 - Multiple agencies not just state agencies
 - Little ability to customize experience for their clients

ESAB to the rescue

- Decouple the data gathering from the application processing
- Partners gather data using their technology customized to their client base
- State processes applications
 - submitted electronically
 - through a state certified protocol
 - based on an XML schema
 - Via Web Services interfaces

Everyone wins

- Partners
 - Single data gathering platform they control
 - Ability to customize their interface to suit their needs
- Vendors
 - New market opportunities
- State
 - Receives data according to its spec
 - Controls the standards
 - Certifies vendor products, no need to procure them
