

The MMIS 2010 Conference will be held August 15-19, 2010 in Portland, Oregon.

2010's theme will be Making Medicaid Information Sustainable. We are thrilled that the conference will be held in Portland, a city that continually tops travel destination lists and has been deemed the "greenest city in America."

The 2010 Conference will convene at the Oregon Convention Center, a national model of sustainability.

The region's natural splendor, bustling urban scene, seasonally focused dining and welcoming accommodations - many of which can be accessed via the convenient and eco-friendly light rail system - await you.

Portland is easy to get to. Portland International Airport hosts non-stop flights from Europe, Asia and most major cities in North America.

Hotel rooms in the area have been reserved and will be available for booking soon - Watch www.mmisconference.org for more information.

We look forward to seeing you in 2010!

City of Roses – City of Fountains – City of Bridges – River City. It is a hub of international trade, and the gateway to a natural wonderland.

A manageable metropolis. Portland does not have everything you have come to expect in a major metropolis – sales tax, gridlock, smog. It is a large city that has managed to maintain its small town charm. Packed into a convenient natural environment,
Portland is accessible and complete.

Portland's spirit is its people. Part old west pride, part entrepreneurial spirit, the character of Portland pays homage to the Oregon Trail. From the very beginning, Portland has been a place of opportunity –
a place to work – a place to play.

Come to Portland!
